Repton, The School, and The School Registers.

Repton.

THE earliest mention of the name occurs in the "Anglo-Saxon Chronicle," a collection of the annals of public events, compiled at various dates. In some of the MSS. of the A. S. Chronicle the name is spelt Hreopan-dün, apparently signifying "Hreopa's down," i.e., Hreopa's hill-fort, Hreopa being the name of some A. S. warrior, not otherwise known.

The three entries in the A. S. Chronicle, in which Repton is mentioned, appear in MS. A. as follows:

1. "A.D. 755. Thy ilcan geare mon ofslog Æthelbald Miercna "cyning on Seccan-dune, and his lic lith on Hreopa-dune."

In the same year was slain Æthelbald, king of the Mercians, at Seckington (Warwicks.), and his body lies at Repton.

2. "A.D. 874. Her for se here from Lindesse to Hreope-dune, "and thær winter-setl nam."

In this year the invading army went from Lindsey (Lincs.) to Repton, and there took up their winter-quarters.

3. "A.D. 875. Her for se here from Hreope-dune."

In this year the invading army departed from Repton.

The various readings give the name as follows:—1. Hreopa A; Hreopan BCD; Reopan E. 2. Hreope ABCE; Hreopen D.

Here Hreopen and Reopan are later spellings of Hreopan, and Hreope of Hreopa; which practically gives five examples of Hreopan, and five of Hreopa. The former, being the fuller form, may be preferred.

The only other trace of the name Hreopa is in the tribal name Hrepingas, mentioned in (the late) MS. E. under the year 675, in the Peterborough charter there quoted. This may well be a late spelling of Hreopingas, i.e., the sons (or family) of Hreopa. This tribal name is preserved in the modern Repington, which, according to Plummer, is the name of a hundred.

It is proper to note, on the other hand, that Hreopa is the older spelling, and looks like a genitive plural, but it would be difficult to explain it.

We also find Hrypadun, apparently Repton, in the index to Kemble's Charters.

The above note has been contributed by the Rev. W. W. Skeat, Litt. D., Anglo-Saxon Professor in the University of Cambridge, whose Chair was endowed by Dr. Joseph Bosworth, O.R. (See p. 57).

The School.

THE School was founded in 1557 in accordance with the will of Sir John Port, of Etwall, which provided for the endowment of "A Grammar School in Etwall or Repton," to be kept by "A Priest well learned and graduate," assisted "by an Usher." The Schoolmaster and Usher were to receive respectively Twenty Pounds and Ten Pounds as their annual salary "for their travail" in keeping the School.

Provision was also made for "a substantial School House, together with convenient chambers and lodgings for the Schoolmaster and Usher." The buildings adopted for this purpose included, for many years, only what is now known as The Priory, which formed the School and the official residence of the Master and the Senior Usher till the year 1768, when the then Headmaster, curiously enough Prior by name, moved into The Hall, leaving the Priory houses for the two Ushers, known in later years as the Second and Third Masters.

It may here be noted that the present H.M. is not the first whom Priory has sent to Hall!

From the fact that the School was first established in these buildings it was known as "Repton Priory School," as is shewn by the following records:—Henslowe, E.P. (p. 74) is entered in the register of Jesus Coll., Camb., as coming from "Repton Priory School"; Mounsey, G.W. (p. 111), is similarly described in the register of Trin. Coll.

Moreover, the name "Priory" was transferred to the Hall which retained the borrowed title as late as Dr. Peile's time.

The report of the Wildbore brothers (p. 91) for the half-year ending Midsummer, 1833, written in full by Mr. Macaulay and signed by him, is dated from "Repton Priory," and Whitehead, E.E.W. p. 107), writes that he was "at The Priory or Old Hall under Dr. Peile." Also Macaulay, J.H. (p. 101), referring to the above-mentioned School report, says "I can satisfactorily answer your enquiry about 'Priory' and 'Hall.' All the buildings, including what are now called The Hall and The Priory, were then, and indeed always in Dr. Peile's time, called 'The Priory.' All letters came, as I distinctly recollect, to the Headmaster's house, addressed 'The Priory.' This accounts for my uncle dating his letter from 'The Priory.'"

In the year 1621 King James granted to the School a special Charter, the management of the estates being entrusted to a Corporation consisting of "The Master of Etwall Hospital, The Schoolmaster of Repton, Ushers, Poor Men (of the Hospital) and Poor Scholars." Under this charter the number of Ushers was doubled, the special duty of the First Usher was "to teach grammar," of the Second Usher "to teach to write, cyphers, and cast accompt." It seems probable that at one time the Second Usher presided in the schoolroom known to many O.R.s as "The Writing School," the same with which so many of us associate affectionate memories of sundry incidents, whether of sunshine or storm, under the kindly, if stern, rule of him, after whom the room was known as "Johnson's Schoolroom."

This ancient building was one of the old landmarks removed to make way for the Memorial Hall.

It does not appear from the Charter what share the Poor Scholars (the original Foundation Scholars) took in the duties of the Corporation, but the acting members used to meet for the transaction of business in "The Audit Room," in The Priory, the same room which was the Lower Fifth Room for so many years.

In those days the Audit Chest, now in the School Library, was kept in the Audit Room, and was the depository of Corporation papers, &c. The three keys of the chest were in the custody respectively of the Master of the Hospital, the Master of the School, and the senior inmate of the Hospital, the vote of the last named being equal at board meetings to that of either of the former. On one occasion (the present Master of the Hospital tells me the date was October 17th, 1866) the representative of the old men carried his view of the question under discussion by refusing the use of his key of the chest until his amendment had been adopted!

In 1874, after an enquiry by the Charity Commissioners, the present system of government by a more generally representative body was established.

The School Buildings and Boarding Houses were all inside the Arch till the year 1857, soon after which date commenced those lively contests on the old football field by the Trent, doubtless well remembered by O.R.s of the Sixties, when at first the game was "Hall v. Houses," and later, as the Houses outside the Arch grew stronger, the notice on the old oaken door at the entrance of "The Big School" changed to "Inside v. Outside." In those now antediluvian matches the teams did not consist of XI. or XV., but of as many boys as could be collected by the respective captains.

The year 1857 also brought the School to the 300th anniversary of her Foundation. An account of the celebration of that interesting event, of which the Chapel is the standing memorial, may be read in the little volume published by Dr. Pears, and entitled "The Book of the Repton Tercentenary."

And now we are fast approaching the completion of another 50 years in the history of our School; let some younger pen record, in the next edition of the Register, the many-sided progress and expansion of the old School during the half-century since she ceased to be confined by the old "Abbey Wall," older than herself, older even than the Priory.

The School Registers.

THOUGH the School was founded in 1557, and entries appear in this edition of the Register under the years 1564 and 1565, there is no entry in the original manuscript of earlier date than 1675, the date of the list quoted on pp. 29-34.

The next entries in the manuscript form the list under date 1714, quoted on pp. 41-45, which is followed by the names under date 1771, recorded in print on pp. 51-56, as far as the brothers named Greaves.

Mr. Hipkins has told us in his Preface how he was enabled to fill, to some extent, some of the gaps not accounted for in these lists, and the present Editor, acting on the advice of Dr. Peile, O.R., the Master of Christ's College, spent a week over some of the College Registers in Cambridge, a work which was rewarded by the discovery of 60 entries of Reptonians, whose names have not previously appeared in any list of O.R.s; 40 of these are of earlier date than our own first entries of 1675. Probably a more extended search at Cambridge and a similar examination of the Oxford Registers would produce equally satisfactory results.

No Headmaster, except the one named in the heading of the lists of 1714, is mentioned in the old Register till the arrival of Dr. Sleath in the year 1800. His record is the next after the three lists above mentioned. He begins his list with the names of some few boys who had entered under the previous Master. Unfortunately, the record he has left of his own pupils is sadly incomplete, e.g., the record of the year 1804 contains but eight names. The entries seem to have been made at various times, compiled probably from mere memoranda or old lists, several names are repeated, and not a few are entered without regard to date of admission. It really looks as if the good Doctor had carried off the Register with him to Etwall, and had there filled in his period at his leisure.

His successor, Mr. Macaulay, left no list of admissions in his time; probably because the Register was not in evidence upon his arrival.

Can any O.R. say when and where the Register was first discovered after that date?

The present record of entries under Mr. Macaulay has been compiled chiefly from old School lists of the period. The oldest printed list extant is that for the half-year ending Christmas, 1832, the first published by Macaulay, which contains the names of 37 boys, one of whom, Peter Ma., is still living.

Of these lists 13 exist, some being duplicate copies, which, together with 20 lists of Dr. Peile's time, are now in the School Library.

Dr. Peile commenced his register with a useful list of 35 boys then in the School, giving the dates of their admission under his predecessor.

After him arose Repton's "Modern Founder," Dr. Pears. His first half-year's list, dated Christmas, 1854, contains the names of only 48 boys, and the whole resident teaching staff then consisted of the three Foundation Masters; but before he resigned he was able to enter in his latest four or five lists the names of as many as 260 boys.

From the year 1841 the Registers have been kept continuously and with more detail than previously, but, if the printed editions of Repton's Register are to contain anything like satisfactory records of her sons, an official Registrar should be appointed (one of the Assistant Masters, if possible) to keep record of such items as Entrance Scholarships, &c., membership of the Cricket, Football and Shooting Teams, University Honours and Distinctions gained in later life. The Registrar should also keep a separate official Address Book, and should keep it well up to date.

I am glad to know that the present Headmaster has some such scheme under consideration.

Preface to Repton School Register.

EDITED BY REV. F. C. HIPKINS, 1895.

DURING the compilation of this Register the Editor has frequently been asked the question, "Where do you get the names from?" As this question may occur to others, a few words as to the authorities consulted and sources of information may be interesting.

In the keeping of the Headmaster of Repton School there is an old Register book containing a list of names from 1675 to 1882. These names have been copied verbatim et literatim. Unfortunately, as will be seen, there are many breaks in the list.

These breaks have been filled up, to a certain extent, by names found in many ways.

(1) An article called "Minute Book of the Wirksworth Classis," published in the "Journal of the Derbyshire Archæological and Natural History Society," Vol. II., 1880, by Dr. J. Charles Cox (O.R.), supplied information about many in the seventeenth century.

(2) The Charter, granted by James I., named "the first Foure Poore Schollars."

(3) A list of witnesses in a chancery suit between the Master of Repton School, etc., and Gilbert Thacker and others, named eleven O.R.s, who appeared as witnesses at the trial.

(4) Dr. Peile (O.R.), Master of Christ's College, and Dr. Sandys (O.R.), Fellow of St. John's College, and Public Orator, Cambridge, have, most kindly, made extracts from their College Registers of Reptonians who were members of their colleges.

(5) School lists, printed during the Headmastership of Mr. Macaulay (1832-40) (presented to the School by H. Temple Pears (O.R.), supplemented by information obtained from and by the Right Hon. George Denman and Canon Macaulay, who were at School during that period, when no Register was kept.

(6) Names cut or written on the school walls, etc.

(7) University Honours, Degrees, Addresses, in "Alumni Oxonienses" (Foster), "Graduati Cantabrigienses" (Crockford).

Many O.R.s and others have supplied much valuable information, without which the Register would have been merely a list of names and dates.

In addition to those mentioned above, the Editor begs to return his most grateful thanks to the Headmaster (the Rev. W. M. Furneaux), the Rev. G. P. Clucas, H. H. Bemrose, Esq., W. H. Francis, Esq. (O.R.), J. Tilley, Esq., Author of "The Old Halls, Manors, and Families of Derbyshire;" and many others, who, by their kind advice and assistance, have helped him in his arduous but exceedingly pleasant task.

Historical Introduction.

BY REV. F. C. HIPKINS.

REPTON SCHOOL was founded by Sir John Port, of Etwall, in the County of Derby, Knight. He was the son of Sir John Port, Knt., one of the Justices of the King's Bench in the reign of King Henry VIII., who, after the dissolution of the monasteries, conferred the manor, together with the Rectory and advowson of the Vicarage of Etwall, upon Sir John Port; these passed on to his son John, created a Knight of the Bath at the coronation of King Edward VI., 1547. Sir John, by will dated the 9th of March, 1556, directed that he should be buried "as neare as conveniently may be, on the right hand the Tombe that my father made betwixt the chauncell and my Chappell above the body of the parish church in Etwall," and "that a comely and handsome Tomb of pure Marble after the best plain sort be made and erected up by my Executors within six monthes after my decease. In and upon which Tomb I will be sett and fixed graven in brasse after the best fashion all such armes as I and my Wifes are entituled to give with a remembrance of mine and their Names, and of the tyme of my departure from this Transitory life with other such scriptures as by my Executors shall be thought most decent and convenient per me supradictum Johannem Porte."

"Alsoe that thirteen of the poorest and Impotent Persons as well men as women in Dauburie and Lees Hilton and Repton shall have by the hands of my Executors or their Assignes every Fryday at the Church of Etwall after the High Masse is said dureing three years to pray for my father and mother me and my Wifes and Children and all Christian souls a penny a peece."

"Alsoe six of the poorest of Etwall Parish shall have weeklie for ever Twenty pence a peece over and besides such lodging as I or my Executors shall provide for them in an Alms-House which God willing shall be builded in or near to the Church yard at Etwall."

“ Alsoe In like manner I will give & devise to S^r Thomas Gifford Knight and my nephew Richard Harpur Esq Thomas Brewster Vicar of Etwall, John Harker and Simon Starkey and to their heirs all my Lands Tenements & Hereditaments in Mosley Abraham Brockhurst within the County of Lancaster upon condition that they shall finde or cause to be found a Priest well learned and graduate and of honest and Virtuouse Conversation Freely to keep a grammar School in Etwall or Repton from time to time for ever. And alsoe to say Masse or minister Divine service at the Alter in my Chappell there or in Repton Church at such Alter as my Executors shall appoint thrice every week. And I will there be alsoe an Usher associate to & with the said Master to Keepe y^e school. And for their travell in such behalf I will that the School M^r have yearly Twenty pounds and the Usher Tenn pounds. And I will that the schollars of the said school every morninge at their comeing to the said Schoole, & also at the afternoon at and upon the departure from the schoole do pray for my Parents soules, my soule, the soule of Elizabeth Porte my late wife, the souls of Walter Porte and Thomas Porte my children and the souls of my Brethren and sisters, and the souls of all them that I stand most bound to pray for as more plainly shall appear in a schedule, & all Christian souls, which Schoole Master at the first tyme I will S^r William Perryn Batcheler of Divinity late my Chaplain to be (if he be living) and so will take upon him, or else such other well learned virtuous man as myne Executors shall appoint &c., per me supradictum Johannem Porte.”

“ Alsoe with the residue of the profitts of the said Stock and Farme that my Executors builde of stone and brick a substantial Schoole House together with convenient Chambers and Lodgings for the Schoole Master & Usher in the place and precinct of y^e North side of the Church at Etwall, or at Repton; and this done I will without delay my Executors to establish by the King and Queen’s Highness Licence and other lawfull assureances to the Schole for ever.”

“ And by like circumstance to admortise to the use thereof the said Lands and Tenements in Mosely Abraham and Brockhurst aforesaid, The Royalte and Mannor whereof, and the putting in of the said Schoole Master from time to time and Usher I will my Issue male and his heirs to have for ever And if I have no Issue male then my Executors for their time and after their decease my heires or such other as I shall appoint by my deed Indented and subscribed with my hand per me Johannem Porte."

"In witness whereof to these presents I have but my seale the day and year above written per me supradictum Johannem Porte. Hæc finita sunt in præsentia mei præfati Richardi Harpur, per testimonium mei Johannis Harker, per testimonium mei Simonis Starkey, per testimonium mei Lawrencii Wright."

The directions of Sir John Port were carried out by his executors. Built against the south wall of the chancel in Etwall Church is a "comely and handsome tomb of pure marble." "Sett and fixed, graven in brasse," are portraits of Sir John, his two wives, and children, two boys and three girls kneeling at the back of their mother, Lady Elizabeth Port.

Above the tomb, on a shield, the arms of Port, surmounted by their crest. On the tomb, at the top corners, are shields, Port impaling quarterly Gifford and Montgomery, and Port impaling quarterly of the two Fitzherbert coats. Below, set in three quatrefoils, are shields: (1) of Port, (2) Port impaling quarterly Gifford and Montgomery, (3) Quarterly of four, Stanhope, Malovale, Longvillers, and Lexington, and impaling Porte and Montgomery.

On the tomb is the following inscription:—

"Under this tombe lyeth buried the Goodye of Syr John Porte knyght sonne & heyre unto Syr John Porte, one of the Justices of ye Kings Benche at Westmynst^r Elsebeth and Dorothe Wyves to the same S^r John Porte the sonne which sonne dyed the xvjth day of June Anno Dni 1557."

Sir John was married twice, first to Elizabeth, daughter of Sir Thomas Gifford, of Chillington, in the County of Stafford, secondly to Dorothy, daughter of Anthony Fitzherbert. By his first wife he had five children, two boys, Walter and Thomas, both of whom died young, and three daughters, Elizabeth, Dorothy, and Margaret.

Elizabeth married Sir Thomas Gerard, of Bryn, co. Lancaster; Dorothy married George Hastings, Earl of Huntingdon; Margaret married Sir Thomas Stanhope, of Shelford, co. Nottingham, from whom the present hereditary Governors of Repton School, Lord Gerard, the Earl of Loudoun, and the Earl of Carnarvon, trace their descent.

On the north side of the Church at Etwall was built "an Alms-House for six of the poorest of Etwall Parish." This almshouse fell into decay, so in 1681 the present hospital was erected. It consists of sixteen sets of apartments, built on three sides of a square; the fourth side is open to, and bounded by the churchyard wall.

The following inscription is fixed in the centre of the north side:—

" M . S.

"S^r John Port, Knight, son to S^r John Port, one of the Justices of the Court of King's Bench, haueing by his last Will left an Estate for the Erection and Endowment of a Free Schole at Repton and an Hospital in this place, departed this Life June VI. MDLVII. the which Foundations haueing been accordingly established, this Hospitall through length of time falling to decay, was rebuilt, the Sallary's increased, the Alms Men augmented from VI. to XII. The Right Honourable Theophilus Earle of Huntingdon, the Right Honourable Philip Earle of Chesterfield, and S^r William Gerrard, Baronet, Heires Generall to the Founder, being Governors. MDCLXXXI."

Sir John Port's executors established the School at Repton rather than at Etwall, because they found there "one large great and high house," all that remained of the ancient Priory, well adapted to the purpose. By an indenture, dated 12th June, 1557, "Gilbert Thacker, in consideration of £37 10s., bargained and sold to Richard Harpur serjeant-at-law, John Harker, and Simon Starkey, three of the executors, one large great and high house, near the kitchen of the same Gilbert Thacker, in Repton, commonly called the Feringre, with the ground and soil whereon the same was erected and builded, with the court or void-room adjoining to and upon the end of the said house, and between the said house and the said kitchen, upon which the school-master's lodgings were then newly erected, together with all the rooms, both above and beneath, of the same long house, and also all the paths and ways coming or leading to the same or any of them. The said Gilbert, also, for the consideration aforesaid, bargained and sold to the said Richard, John, and Simon, one large void-room or parcel of ground upon the east part, adjoining to the side of the said great long house, which void-room and parcel of ground lately was called the Cloyster, and one other room thereto adjoining, lately called the Fratriye, as the same were then inclosed with a new wall; to the intent that the same should be a schoolhouse, and so used from time to time thereafter."

Thus was Repton School founded by Sir John Port in the year 1557. As we have seen, Sir William Perryn, Bachelor of Divinity, was the first schoolmaster nominated by Sir John in his will.

The management of the School continued for a time under the direction of Sir John's executors, but gradually it fell into the hands of the Harpur family. In the year 1621 an agreement was made, by Sir John Harpur on the one part, and the Earl of Huntingdon, Lord Stanhope, and Sir Thomas Gerard, Bart., on the other, the three several descendants of Sir John Porte's three daughters, by which the management, after the death of Sir John Harpur, was conveyed to the rightful heirs of the founder.

In 1622, by petition of the coheirs, James I. granted, by Royal Letters Patent, a Charter of Incorporation by the style and title of "the Master of Etwall Hospital, School Master of Repton, Ushers, Poor Men, and Poor Scholars." The coheirs "of their friendliness and good will to the said Sir John Harpur, son of Richard, their Kinsman," petitioned that he should have the election and appointment of three of the twelve poor men, and one of the four poor scholars ordained by the Charter, so the Harpurs (Harpur-Crewes since 1808) were appointed, and have been numbered among the hereditary Governors from that time.

In 1865, F. O. Martin, Esq., Inspector of Charities, made a report to the Charity Commissioners "in the matter of Sir John Port's Hospital in Etwall and School in Repton," which report was ordered by the House of Commons to be printed on the 13th

May, 1867. Founded on the report, a draft scheme for the management was published in January, 1873, by the Endowed Schools Commission. From that date all lands, etc., have been vested in the Charity Commissioners' official trustee.

A new Governing Body was appointed, consisting of an ex-officio Governor (the Lord-Lieutenant of the County of Derby for the time being), four hereditary Governors, five nominated Governors, one nominated by the members of Parliament for the various divisions of the county of Derby, one by the magistrates for the county of Derby in Quarter Sessions, one by the Hebdomadal Council of the University of Oxford, one by the Council of the Senate of the University of Cambridge, one of the Head Master and Assistant Masters of Repton School, and five co-optative Governors.

Preface.

IT was with no light heart that, at the request of the O.R. Society, I undertook the preparation of this new edition of the Register. I was associated with my late husband in the compilation of the previous edition in 1905, I knew how great the difficulties were of ensuring completeness and accuracy in detail, and I knew further how impossible success was to achieve without the fullest assistance from all those who were interested in the School, both past and present, but I was assured, and that assurance has been in the fullest manner redeemed, that the assistance which was given to my husband would also be extended to me ; it has been so extended, and whatever faults there may be in this book—and there are faults—none are due to any lack of sympathetic assistance on the part of present and past Reptonians. My husband was a very keen Reptonian, and I have been treated by all concerned as if I were, as I hope I am, a keen Reptonian by adoption.

The first edition of the Repton Register was the work of the Rev. F. C. Hipkins, and was published in 1895. My husband's edition was brought out ten years later, in 1905, and this issue will be the third. It is comparatively easy to deal with Reptonians who have joined the School in recent years, but the task of tracing some O.R.'s has been most difficult. I have fortunately been able to complete the records of more than 150 O.R.'s whose entries were unavoidably left incomplete in the edition of 1905, and each one of these records completed must, I think, add value to the book as a work of reference. I shall be very grateful to any of my readers who can supply me with any information which would enable me to trace those O.R.'s whose records are still incomplete.

The School records illustrate, to one who closely studies them, very interesting evidence of hereditary succession; sons succeed fathers, and their sons succeed them. Family associations with the School are maintained, and at this moment nearly one-tenth of the boys in the School are sons of O.R.'s.

I have already said that my task would have been hopeless without assistance, and I hope to be allowed now to acknowledge the full measure in which that assistance has been given to me. To my enquiries by correspondence, often I fear voluminous and pressing, O.R.'s at home and abroad have given most careful attention and have, moreover, cheered me by kindly encouragement. Help in special measure has, among many others, been granted to me by the Rev. Professor Sanday, Dr. Sandys, and Mr. H. C. Fanshawe, C.S.I., who will, I hope, accept this acknowledgment of my obligations to them. Mr. A. W. S. Cochrane has placed not only myself but the whole body of O.R.'s under a special obligation by preparing a complete list of Hereditary Governors, a list to which his authority as Rouge Croix gives particular value.

Throughout the whole preparation of the book Mr. Vassall has acted as my adviser and referee, he has grudged neither time nor trouble ; he has helped me in numberless details and has in particular worked out for me the list of Masters, which is far more complete and accurate than any which has yet appeared.

There are mistakes and omissions in the book ; there must be in a Register which seeks to cover the records of a School which has flourished for more than 350 years, but I have done my utmost to investigate every detail, and to make the records as near complete as it was possible for me to do. Where I have failed it has not been through any lack of interest on my part either in the Register itself or in the School of which it is the mirror. May I once more thank all O.R.'s most heartily and ask them to deal tenderly with my deficiencies.

Headmasters of Repton School.

UNDER THE WILL OF SIR JOHN PORT.

Sir John Port in his Will, made 9 March, 1556/7, nominated his late Chaplain, William Perryn, B.D., Ox., to be the first Scole Master, "if he be lyvinge," but he had been made Prior of the Dominican or Black Friars, for whom Mary Tudor refounded St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield, at Easter, 1556, and he was buried there on August 22, 1558.

The Priory was conveyed to the executors of Sir John Port by deed of June 12, 1559, and the names of the first six Masters were written, presumably by the last of the six, on the upper part of the wall of the Audit Room, which used to be the Master's study.

"ME WIGHTMAN, STEWARD, STARKEY, MORETON LITERATUS, RADCLIFF ET POLLARD, PRIMI TENUERE MAGISTRI.
 BIS MILLE SEQUANTUR."

Christopher Wase, MSS., C.C.C., Ox. Bigsby, History of Repton, 183—4. Victoria County History. Derbyshire, Vol. 2. Art. Schools, by A. F. Leach.

The dates of the earlier Masters and Ushers are only approximately correct. They are the result of researches made in the Parish Church Registers and amongst the old documents in the Audit Chest in the School Library and elsewhere, by A. F. Leach, assisted by H. Vassall.

WIGHTMAN, (?) THOMAS	1559—
B.A. Ox. 1539.
STEWARD,	—1568
STARKEY, (?) GEOFFREY	1568—1580
All Souls' Coll., Ox. B.A. 1562. M.A. 1567. Fellow. R. of Kenneth, Camb. 1580. V. of Aldbourne, Wilts. 1583.
MORETON,	1580—
RADCLIFF,	—1589
POLLARD, (?) RICHARD,	1589—1592 buried at Repton, May 11, 1592.

WATSON, RALPH

1592—1621

Clerk. d. 1621.

See Depositions of the Thacker suit (School Library) and Parish Church Registers. His son Ralph, of Co. Derby, cler. fil. matriculated at B.N.C., Ox., 1620, and became R. of Trusley, 1629.

Under the Charter granted by Letters Patent 20 June, 19 Jas. I. to the Master [of the Hospital], Schoolmaster, Ushers, Poor Men and Poor Scholars of the Hospital and Free School of Sir John Port, Knight, in Etwall and Repton alias Reppington, of the foundation of the said Sir John Port.

WHITEHEAD, Thomas

1621—1642

Christ's Coll., Camb. B.A. 1601. M.A. 1607. Incorporated M.A. Ox. 1618. Master of Atherstone School, Warwickshire, 1607—14. d. 1642.

John Bradshaw, O.R., in the Christopher Wase MSS., says :—" We were no fewer than 300 scholars . . . Mr. W. was a right Elizabethan Protestant. . . . He dyd 80 years old, a bachelor. . . ." See also Depositions, Thacker suit.

ULLOCK, WILLIAM

1642—1667

O.R. St. John's Coll., Camb. B.A. 1639. M.A. 1st Usher 1639—42. d. May 13, 1667. buried at Repton.

In the first Thacker suit in 1651, Ullock and the two Ushers, Whitehead and Dammes, are described as "gentlemen," so that none of them was in orders at that date. He was protagonist in the second suit.

SEDGWICK, JOSEPH

1667—1672

Magd. Coll., Ox. M.A. d. 1672.

LITHERLAND, EDWARD

1672—1680

O.R. Christ's Coll., Camb. B.A. 1659. M.A. 1662. Incorporated M.A. Ox. 1669. 1st Usher 1659—62. d. June, 1680. buried at Repton.

The earliest extant Register of the School 1675, with 88 boys (School Library).

DOUGHTY, JOHN

1680—1705

Ball Coll., Ox. M.A. 1662. Assistant Master 1677—80.

Came from Findern. Acted as Master during a dispute between the Hereditary Governors. The Earl of Huntingdon wished to appoint a Mr. Wheeler, whilst the Earl of Chesterfield (with him Mr. Jackson, Master of Etwall Hospital) wanted Mr. Hardestee or Mr. Brooks, late 1st Ushers. The school suffered in consequence and the numbers dwindled. In 1705, the Master was reported to be "disabled and incapable."

ABBOTT, EDWARD

1705—1713

C.C.C., Camb. M.A. d. March, 1713. buried at Repton.

- GAWTON, THOMAS 1713—1722
Ch. Ch., Ox. B.A. 1708. M.A. 1711. Incumbent of Chalgrove. d. Dec. 25, 1722.

- FLETCHER, GEORGE 1724—1741
St. John's Coll., Ox. M.A. 1712. R. of Cubley 1733. buried at Cubley, Dec. 5, 1751.
- ASTELEY, WILLIAM 1741—1767
O.R. St. John's Coll., Camb. B.A. 1734. M.A. R. of Hartshorne. d. 1769. buried at Hartshorne.
- PRIOR, WILLIAM 1767—1779
King's Coll., Camb. M.A. 1752. D.D. 1775. Moved from The Priory to The Hall, Aug. 31, 1768. d. June 16, 1779.
buried at Repton.
Up to 1768 the Master had always lived in the Priory (North end), and the 1st Usher in the Little Priory (South end). It was in digging a vault for Dr. Prior inside the Chancel of the Church that the Sexton fell through into the long-forgotten crypt, which had been closed up in 1670, at the end of the Thacker suit, to prevent the boys from using it.
- STEVENS, WILLIAM BAGSHAW 1779—1800
Magd. Coll., Ox. Demy 1772—94. B.A. 1776. Assistant Master 1776—9. Fellow 1794. D.D. 1797. R. of Seck-ington and V. of Kingsbury, Warwicks. 1779. d. May 28, 1800.
buried at Repton, monument in Repton Church.
- SLEATH, WILLIAM BOULTBEE 1800—1832
Emm. Coll., Camb. D.D. 1802. F.S.A. R.D. V. of Willing-ton. Master of Etwall Hospital. d. Oct. 21, 1842. buried at Etwall, monument in Repton Church.
Re-discovered the outer entrance to Crypt under the floor of his shed—pulled down his shed, cleaned out the Crypt and removed the grass banks which had covered the Crypt windows since 1670. There is a picture in the Priory of the Chancel with the grass banks and the shed.
- MACAULAY, JOHN HEYRICK 1832—1840
Trin. Coll., Camb. B.A. 1821. M.A. 1824. d. Dec. 23, 1840.
